Executive Summary

In the third quarter of 2024, the Endowment returned +2.9%, bringing the trailing one-year performance to +12.3%. For the quarter, Global Public Equity, Alternative Fixed Income, and Global Fixed Income were the leading performance contributors. Over the one-year period, Global Public Equity, Hedged Equity, and Alternative Fixed Income were the largest contributors in the portfolio. The broader portfolio marginally outperformed its benchmark for the quarter as Alternative Fixed Income, Real Estate, and Global Public Equity delivered the best relative performance, though this was slightly offset by relative underperformance in the Private Equity and Private Debt portfolios. For the one-year period, the broader portfolio continued to lead its benchmark, driven by stronger relative performance from the Hedged Equity, Real Estate, and Alternative Fixed Income portfolios.

The Global Public Equity (+7.0%) and Hedged Equity (+2.8%) portfolios generated positive absolute performance for the quarter (vs benchmark returns of +6.8% and +3.3%, respectively). For Global Public Equity, positive performance was attributable to the portfolio's passive total world stock, MSCI ACWI IMI Index, and S&P 500 Index exposures, with added contribution from a small-cap activist strategy. For Hedged Equity during the quarter, the top contributors to performance were the US growth, US cyclicals, and global hedge funds. There was only one detractor for the quarter across both portfolios which was a large-cap pan-Asia strategy. There were no new allocations made during the quarter in the Endowment's public equity portfolios.

The Alternative Fixed Income portfolio returned +4.4% for the quarter, which represented continued outperformance compared to its primary benchmark (+1.6%). This portfolio captured positive returns from nearly all of the portfolio's existing strategies, led by a global macro strategy, a relative value strategy, and a multi-strategy credit hedge fund. Laggards for the quarter were an event-driven strategy and an Asian credit strategy, both of which are exiting the portfolio. For the one-year period, this portfolio (+11.4%) also led its benchmark (+7.1%), driven largely by an active credit strategy and global macro strategy. There were no new allocations made during the quarter in the Endowment's Alternative Fixed Income portfolio, though we trimmed from an emerging markets strategy that's being deemphasized in the portfolio.

The Global Fixed Income portfolio returned +5.0% for the quarter, marginally underperforming its primary benchmark (+5.2%). The portfolio benefitted from positive absolute return from the portfolio's cash position as well as strong absolute performance from the passive bond exposures for the quarter. Over the one-year period, the portfolio returned +11.3%, which slightly lagged the benchmark return of +12.1%. Passive line items (US Aggregate Swaps and US Treasury ETFs) over the one-year horizon worked against the portfolio on a benchmark-relative basis, more than offsetting positive contribution from an active credit strategy. There were no new allocations made in the Global Fixed Income portfolio during the quarter.

The Private Debt portfolio returned +0.9% for the quarter, lagging the portfolio's blended benchmark (+1.8%). Over the one-year period, the portfolio returned +7.3%, which also underperformed the benchmark (+7.7%). The Distressed Debt portion of the portfolio delivered a +0.5% return for the quarter, bringing the one-year performance to +5.9%. Allocations to distressed/special situations strategies in the US and Europe led performance in this portfolio for the quarter. The Performing Debt portion of the portfolio delivered a +1.2% return for the quarter, bringing the one-year performance to +8.7%. Performance leaders in this sub-portfolio included an energy lending strategy, a diversified direct lending strategy, and an Asia lending strategy, among others. There were no new allocations made during the quarter in the Private Debt portfolio.

The Real Estate portfolio returned +0.1% in a relatively uneventful quarter, although the portfolio led its benchmark return of -0.5%. The Enhanced portfolio faced headwinds during the quarter (-0.4%), performing in line with its sub-category benchmark (-0.4%), while Stable Value (+0.4%) outperformed on a relative basis (-0.7%). Benchmark-relative outperformance can be attributed to strong outcomes with a single-family rental strategy and an open-ended industrial strategy. The top detractors for the quarter included a commercial real estate debt strategy and a global distressed real estate strategy. There were no new allocations made in the Real Estate portfolio during the quarter.

The Private Equity portfolio returned +0.1% for the quarter, lagging the benchmark (+1.1%). Over the one-year period, the portfolio returned +2.0%, which also underperformed the benchmark (+4.4%). The Buyout Private Equity portfolio delivered a +1.7% return for the quarter, bringing the one-year performance to +2.8%. In Buyout, positive outcomes from energy and middle market buyout strategies in the US outweighed markdowns in a secondary strategy and a diversified US strategy. The Venture Capital portfolio generated a -1.2% return for the quarter, bringing the one-year performance to +1.3%. Positive contributors included an investment in India, a defense industry co-investment, and a technology venture strategy, though that performance was counterbalanced by drawdowns from two strategies in biotech and a real estate co-investment. Two new investments were made during the quarter in the Buyout portfolio, one was with a diversified middle market buyout strategy, and the other was a direct investment in an infrastructure consulting business.

Inflation and interest rates remained main focuses for global investors during 3Q24, especially in the lead-up to the presidential election. Both candidates' proposed economic agendas were regarded as potentially contributing to additional inflationary pressures. Equity markets were materially positive during the quarter, and the US economy continued to impress, though jobs market softness opened the door for the Federal Reserve's first rate cut this cycle in mid-September. As of the time of this writing, geopolitical risks are still firmly atop the list of potential global macro concerns as tensions in Israel, the Middle East, and China remain high. In the face of such uncertainty, we remain focused on long-term strategic asset allocation and diversification across quality investment managers.

For the quarter, the top performing portfolios were Global Public Equity (+7.0), Global Fixed Income (+5.0), and Alternative Fixed Income (+4.4). For the trailing one-year period, the top performing portfolios were Global Public Equity (+28.7%), Hedged Equity (+26.3%), and Alternative Fixed Income (+11.4%).
